2006 Schools in School Improvement and Restructuring

Schools Identified for School Improvement

According to federal requirements, the following buildings are in "school improvement" because they did not achieve Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) for two consecutive years (2004-05 and 2005-06) in either communication arts or math. They may be required to offer students the option to transfer to other, higher-performing buildings.

Schools in School Improvement, Fourth Year

Missouri has no schools in their fourth year of "school improvement" in 06-07.

Schools in School Improvement, Fifth Year

The following buildings are among the group of schools originally targeted for "school improvement" in 2002; they are in their fifth year of "school improvement." These schools may be required to offer the transfer option and also are required to provide supplemental educational services (SES).

Schools in Corrective Action

The following buildings have not met AYP for five consecutive years and must be targeted for "corrective action," according to federal requirements. Districts with schools in "corrective action" must continue to offer the transfer option if appropriate, provide supplemental educational services (SES) and take at least one of the following corrective actions:

- Provide for all staff scientifically research-based professional development;
- Institute a new curriculum grounded in scientifically based research;
- Extend the length of the school year or school day;
- Replace school staff relevant to not making adequate progress;
- Significantly decrease management authority at the school;
- Appoint outside experts to advise the school.
